JEY is here and does come with great joy, for indeed those of you who are here have had a time of exchanging your thoughts concerning that which is the spiritual that is needed. As we are here in spirit with you, we understand the concerns that you have; but we also rejoice at the joy that you have felt during this time of meeting. And so JEY comes at this time mindful that there is still much for you to know, and JEY would ask that you simply remain in a time of meditation and allow your spirit to guide the remainder of this time together as we come to communicate with you in spirit.

It is important that you allow your very heart to be open to these things that are to be said to you. And so as JEY is here at this time there are also others here who have great joy in being able to meet with you and communicate with you through that which is your thoughts and your spirit. And so JEY now will allow one to come who sees the need to be here to further explain information that you have already had opportunity to hear; but know that this one will come in the will of the Creator and does come with much Love and comes giving thanks for the opportunity to communicate through the voice of this one. Be at Peace.

ALLOW THIS ONE TO COME AND BE IN YOUR PRESENCE. It is a great joy for this spirit to be with you and to have the opportunity to communicate with you through this which is a voice. Know that we who are in spirit rely on those of you who are spirit-in-body to let us come and communicate or to act through you, for it is through the voice and that which is the body that we may be able to work among others who are upon the Earth Plane. And so this one comes giving thanks for this opportunity, giving thanks that you have gathered here and are now awaiting further information from those of us who are in spirit, and giving thanks, too, for the Creator of us all for without the Creator and the Creation we would not be here, we would not be among you, nor would you be spirit-in-body. And so we come again to give thanks.

This one wishes to identify to you in a way that perhaps will tell you the purpose of this one being here. And so this one identifies to you now as one who is Spirit but also one who comes to bring you that information that will clarify some misgivings that you may have at this time, or misunderstandings, or to know that you have not been given misinformation. Know that the mental aspect of you does indeed often look upon something from the physical way of thinking and looking whereas what we hope to have you understand is the spiritual way of thinking and looking. And so this one comes then simply as one who will give you information that will help you further to clarify your thinking.

We who come in spirit have an opportunity to work with those who do indeed invite such, those who do indeed allow such to be so. We do not shut ourselves off from those of you who are spirit-in-body, but we come to help those who are spirit-in-body; and as one is embodied by that which is a physical aspect, we are aware that often the spirit is not able to receive information from those who come in spirit. But thanks be to the Creator of all that is, you who are here have the opportunity to receive and then to put that which is an emphasis on those things that are received, according to your needs. That is important for you. Many of you may not be aware that there comes a time in your life as spirit-in-body when you have specific needs, and the information that you receive can be attuned to that which is your specific need at any one time in your journey. And so this one would come to ask you to accept that, for indeed although those of you who are here are on the same spiritual journey, you do not have the same spiritual needs at any one time in your journey. And so as you gather there are often questions within your mental self as to a certain aspect of spiritual understand whereas another may have a full understanding of that. You need not be concerned about that. You are where you must be during this time of journey; and those of you who have difficulty with accepting any one aspect of spiritual information that is given to you simply need to allow quiet time in your life and ask your spirit within you to come and clarify what has been received so that your mental aspect will be willing to succeed in understanding what you have received.

This one would say to you that you have very few instances in your life where you question those things that you have received. You are willing to accept the will of the Creator for your life at this time, and you are willing to accept now what is being given to you. You need not be fearful of this, for indeed you are being well protected in this stage of your journey. It is known that you are preparing now for the complete fulfillment of that for which you came, and so you have reached a stage now where you can be accepting without being fearful. That is worthwhile for you to know at this point, for you often feel the need now to simply share with others, but you often have the feeling "Can I be sure that what I am ready to share is indeed the Truth that they are now ready to receive?" Know that you must allow your Spirit Within to guide you through all sharing that you can do; and if you feel a prompting that it is now time to share a bit of Truth...not all that you know, but a bit of Truth.....that will open another to further acceptance, know that you can indeed allow your Spirit Within you to guide you. You can trust your Spirit. It is so important that you gather to self this knowledge that your Spirit can be trusted! It is OF the Creator; therefore it is to be trusted.

You who embody a spirit at this time are blessed, for indeed you are an embodiment of that which is a part of the Creator of all things. Acknowledge that and the strength of that spirit. Acknowledge that you are worthy of that Spirit Within you, for indeed you have been created upon the Earth from that which is matter of the Earth, and you have grown now to understand the value of the Spirit Within that body. Praise the Creator for that as well.

This one comes to share with you another aspect of your Spiritual understanding, and that is that you have before you now that which is the written word...not just a spoken word. You have a written word as a result of all Truths that have been shared with you through this which has been the voice. You must understand that those written aspects of the Truths have great value, not only to you but to many upon the Earth Plane who have been privileged to receive and internalize those Truths. Know that as even as you share the written aspect that has been given to you, those who have received then have felt that it is a necessity for them to further share those Truths. Be at Peace with that! Know that as you have the written word now, you have the opportunity not only to review and re-internalize all that has been given to you but you have the opportunity to share those with others. This is as it was to be! And know that the one who serves as instrument was indeed given that thought in early times when that one began to search, for there was the urging for that one to not only hear through spirit those truths that were given but to put them in a form that could be shared with others. And those of us who are Spirit rejoice that indeed this has occurred, for that one did indeed listen to Spirit Within.

We come to you often in your thoughts. We are able to integrate into your thoughts those things of a spiritual nature. You often will have thought regarding some aspect of spirituality or some aspect of an individual in your presence who may need help at that time. Often you may not even know where the answer to questions would come from. But know that we are able to enter your thoughts and to integrate a spiritual understanding into your very thinking. Praise be to our Creator for that as well, for you have been cherished by those of us in the Spirit Realm because of your willingness to follow after this spiritual journey that you chose to follow before you became spirit in body on Earth at this time.

We have now before us that which is another aspect that you need to think about. As you begin now to realize more fully that you have prepared for a journey ahead of you, you have perhaps not given thought to another aspect that you need to give thought to....and that is your willingness to be able to fulfill to completion the journey before you. Up until this time it has been fairly easy for you, for you have simply been a recipient of Truth. You have been able to internalize. You have been able to share with others. But you must know that there will come a time when you must be willing to do whatever lies ahead for you to complete. It is not always that life will be so simple for you. You will not always be able to gather in this which is a comfortable surrounding with others of like mind and be able to learn and share Truth. But you must say within your own mental self "I will be willing to do what is necessary for me to do when the time comes." You are aware of Earth changes throughout this Earth on which you live. You are aware that many lives are ended and many spirits have returned to the Spirit Realm. You aware that such can happen within the area in which you live. You have been told that you will be able to survive such. You have been asked that you be ready for whatever does come; but this one asks you to examine your self, your physical self, your emotional self and say that "I am willing to do whatever is necessary."

You have been told before that perhaps you may be required to leave your own home, not knowing what would happen to your home. You must be willing to do that. That is important to you. You may be required to leave some of your loved ones to fulfill what is necessary for you. You must be willing to do that, with the understanding that indeed even as you are being cared for and protected, others who are in your love will be cared for and protected. You have not been asked to do something that is not a reality for you to do. In other words, you are not being asked to simply step aside and see those who are in your love destroyed. That is not to be. You are simply asked to trust the Creator, to trust that you will be able and willing to do what is required of you. And so along with your understanding and your believing and your trusting will go that which is your willingness. And those of us in the Spirit Realm will tell you that we will be there to help you through that which is your thoughts in order that you might be able to not only be willing to go but be willing to accept whatever is necessary for you to accomplish.

At this time allow this one to further say this to you. It is the understanding of those of us who are in Spirit that many of you who have undergone many hardships in times past in your lives are seeking now not to have to undergo such hardships in the future. We who come to you in Spirit come simply to tell you that you will be given an opportunity to escape such hardships in the time to come. It is your ability to do so, but know that here again you must rely upon your Spirit Within to be able to guide you. And so as you look out upon your future and yet which is your NOW, know that you can indeed trust that which is your Spirit to help you through whatever will come in the days and months to come. Be at Peace with that. Know this one has come to you with much Love, much understanding of where you are at this time, with much encouragement, and with that which is the acknowledgment that you are fulfilling the will of our Creator for your life upon the Earth. Go now from this place rejoicing in the fact that you have reached a high point of your journey upon the Earth. You have indeed evolved....your spirit has evolved on the Earth at this time. So has your thinking. So has your body. You have evolved to a point where you are willing and ready and accepting of fulfilling all that is necessary to do in this life upon the Earth. Praise be to our Creator for that, for it is with much truth that this one has come to you.

This one comes feeling a need to address one who is here at this time and who is now preparing that which is a body for one who will come in spirit in that body. Be at peace at this time. Know that the one who will come forth as an embodiment of the spirit will come forth rejoicing in the Creator and will come already much prepared for whatever will be ahead for that one. You are blessed in that you are being able to bear a child at this time on the Earth Plane, a child that will have an advanced spirit, one that will be able to share in your joy in being able to fulfill the will of the Creator on the Earth. Be at peace with that, for you are blessed at this time.

Allow this one to say to you who are here that you have received a blessing in this time of meeting. And this one would simply ask that you be in the will of the Creator at all times, for that is your purpose here upon the Earth. Go now in Love.

JEY returns and does give thanks for the presence of that one. Know that you have received much Truth, much information and much strengthening of not only Spirit Within but also of your own mental self. Be at Peace. Leave this place now feeling the love of those of us who have been here in your presence. Go now in Love. Amen.
